Biography

Nicholas Travis is partner in the firm's Tampa office. He focuses his practice in the areas of professional liability, first-party property litigation and extra-contractual claims.

Nick received his Bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa in 2009. He would later receive his Juris Doctor from St. Thomas University School of Law in 2013. While at St. Thomas, Nick was a member of the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Program, a partnership between the St. Thomas School of Law and the Internal Revenue Service providing pro bono income tax preparation to qualified individuals.

Prior to joining Clausen Miller, Nick was an associate with a national law firm in Miami, Florida where he focused on commercial litigation and the defense of corporate directors and officers in liability and employment claims. He has represented businesses in class action consumer litigation involving fraud and statutory claims. Nick has extensive experience in counseling clients across a broad range of sectors in compliance matters in addition to developing litigation strategies designed to mitigate liability exposure.
