Biography

Alexander Sieger is an associate in Clausen Miller's New York office who concentrates his practice in general liability, products liability, premises liability, professional liability, construction, employment discrimination, commercial litigation, and insurance coverage litigation.

Prior to joining Clausen Miller, Alexander worked at a New York-based insurance defense law firm, where he attended hearings on motions, compliance conferences, status conferences and settlement conferences. He also has extensive experience defending clients and preparing them for depositions, as well as in drafting motions and conducting legal research.

Alexander earned his J.D. from Touro College Jacob D. Fuchsberg Law Center in 2021. While in law school, he served as a legal extern for an elder law firm, an extern in the Family Court Bureau for the Legal Aid Society of Suffolk County and a clinical intern for the Touro Law Center's Family Law Clinic. Before receiving his J.D., he worked for CBS Sports Network in New York City and earned a B.A. in Journalism from Ithaca College in 2013.
