Biography

Eric T. Krejci is a shareholder in the New York office of Clausen Miller P.C. His practice deals primarily with civil litigation involving first-party property coverage, reinsurance, products liability and casualty/liability defense. He obtained a defense verdict in his most recent trial, a product liability case involving the alleged malfunction of a treadmill.

Eric began his career as an Assistant District Attorney with the Queens County District Attorney's Office where he conducted numerous violent felony trials. In addition to prosecuting violent felony cases, Eric investigated and prosecuted large scale narcotics and organized crime syndicates through the use of wiretaps and other forms of court ordered electronic surveillance.

Eric graduated from Binghamton University, cum laude, with a bachelor's degree in both Law and Society and Philosophy. Eric received his Juris Doctor from Brooklyn Law School, where he was a senior associate for the Journal of Law and Policy.

Eric is admitted to the Supreme Court of the State of New York and several courts of federal jurisdiction, including the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.
